DAUGHTERS IN OPERA.

Little Chance for American Young Women to Gratify Their Ambition to Sing to Home Audiences Europe More Anpreclative Some Recent Successes. Of course there is little prospect that productive Some Recent Successes. Of course there is little prospect that productive Some Recent Successes. There is scarcely a season of opera gratified in their hopes. There are not tion of "The Magic Flute" in German abroad that does not bring into prom- enough opera houses in this country to gained her success when she joined the

MARY CARSON.

LUCILLE MARCEL AS MARGUERITE

the Author What Audiences Want.

Edgar Selwyn, author of "The Country

Boy," now playing at the Liberty Theatre and Miss Margaret Mayo (Mrs. Selwyn) author of "Baby Mine," which is being presented at Daly's, offer the unusual spectacle of two playwrights in one family. There is no hint of professional jealousy lurking uneasily amid the easy chairs of the den at the Strathmore, where they received a SEN reporter one recent afternoon. It is a very cosey, homelike place, and Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn talk easily, sometimes together, sometimes helping each other's arguments, very rarely disagreeing. A recent trip to the Orient having been mentioned, both declare that the modern playwright rarely.

if ever, finds there inspiration for his nificent coloring of the East, it is true, but he cannot, I believe," says Mr. Selwyn, make it near enough to our audience to be convincing. It's too tense to be really real. It is all right for light opera and for musical comedy, but while you rhapsodize all the time you are in it, when you get away and look back through the dull, drab atmosphere of everyday happenings you see that it would be like putting a dream on the stage. Your auntence would say: 'What does he think he is trying to do?'" Mrs. Serwyn agrees and adds

"I believe that people must recognize their own possibilities or probabilities in the characters on the stage. If we depict the Orientals truthfully we depict • people absolutely alien to us in every particular. No. 1 think Mr. Selwyn is fight, we will have to keep the East for

*But isn't it difficult to put romance

in a modern setting, and don't the theatrepers demand romance?" the interviewer our playground."

"He becomes steeped with the mag-

work

word Orient Won't Do as a Background for Plays-More Romance on the Stage -Dramas That Run tway With PLAYWRITING HUSBAND AND hero kills four or five with one stroke of Selwyn & Co., play brokers," he re- there is a certain subject that obsesses WIFE CHAT OF THE DRAMA. of his sword will never come back," she plied. "We have the control of several them you will find that plays along that Royal Mount. The Wolf. Pierre of the two I know. says, "but the old fashioned romance popular plays in the United States and particular line are pretty apt to be box. Plains." The occult and psychic fid

JOINT VIEWS OF THE SELWYNS that Mr. Selwyn usually has the last

Italy in the last few months of the opera engage them all. Perhaps after a while more cities will support their own lyric heatres and then the American girl will

How little consideration there is for her hopes in this respect may be gathered from the manner in which "The Girl of the Golden West" has been prepared for production at the Metropolitan Opera House. This is an opera founded on an American theme and is being sung for the first time in this country. There are of course some American sopranos in the company and there is one in particular who might well have been selected for

It happens, moreover, that this particular person has done more for the fame of the composer in this country than anybody else. Yet she has been passed over and a singer from another country who does not sing in English, or for that matter speak it, has been selected to sing the leading rôle. So it is natural that the young American artist in Europe should at times be discouraged about her chances

If the interest in opera throughout the country really does increase there may be other cities eventually added to the list

use of their opportunities in other coun-meantime the American girls are making applause with him.

Lucille Lawrence, who made her very brief engagement

the rôle of the heroine of coming back.

be able to come back and have her chance to appear before her own people.

know, I am a senior partner in the firm mometer of public opinion, and whenever questions were of considerable interest, ished one when he hasn't touched a pen

Photographs by Bangs. N. Y EDGAR SELWYN.

MRS. EDGAR SELWYN.

sing. Most of them want to go only to in which the dramatic soprano always the Metropolitan Opera House, but prob- attires herself for this favorite diversion; ably they would accept engagements in for surely singing Tosca has become the favorite stage sport of the dramatic Of course there is little prospect that soprano. Miss Lawrence has also sung opera company at Breslau.

Miss Lawrence comes from Kentucky and it was at the Metropolitan Opera House that she sang a few small rôles and attracted attention by her talents and her evidently serious intention of making progress in the most dignified She was fortunate enough to make the acquaintance of Miss Callender of this city

Miss Callender, who is an amateur only n name, has long been known as a singer of such skill that few professionals are better equipped. Of late years she has given lessons to pupils she thought worthy her trouble. Miss Lawrence was one of the fortunate beginners to come into her care

Later Miss Lawrence went to Europe to acquire the stage technique that it is impossible to master here. Her success abroad is going far to prove that she is destined with proper training to succeed Miss Callender has sent for her to return to New York for a few weeks this winter in order that she may learn what the con dition of her voice is at present. Miss Callender is a firm believer in the old theories as to the importance of song in operatic art and she will not be satisfied to learn only of her pupil's progress as an actress and operatic artist. She wants her pupils to be singers as well.

Marcella Craft is the lyric soprano at the Royal Opera House in Munich and she was selected to sing the part of Mimi "La Bohème" when Signor Caruso went to Munich last fall to sing and incidentally to be injured by the fall of a piece amateur, never had an idea of making professional use of her gifts until after the death of her father. Then she sang for Mme. Sembrich, who immediately gave her a letter to her old teacher, Giovanni Lamperti, in Berlin. Thus it happened that Miss Scheider was one of the very last pupils of the great Italian teacher,

LUCILLE LAWRENCE.

She was engaged in Zurich for three years. There she acquired a répertoire of twenty-five operas, and she will this season add Nedda and Mimi to it. Next autumn she begins her three years en-who died a year ago.

gagement at Karlsruhe

MARCELLA CRAFT

which now includes Chicago, Boston and of scenery while he was waiting on the many. She will after the present season Philadelphia besides New York. In the stage to take out Miss Craft to share the be the first colorature soprano at the Grand Ducal Opera House in Karlsruhe. Miss Craft comes from California. She This is one of the foremost opera houses tries and finding a degree of appreciation has studied in Italy as well as in Germany. Berlin, Dresden, Munich which is not always accorded to them and it was owing to that fact that she and Karlsruhe count as the first four in at home. They are coming back as rap- was able to take part in the performance the country. The engagement is a great

dly as they get the chance, which happens of "La Bohème" and sing it in the tongue honor to this American girl just now less frequently than they would of the composer and of the distinguished It was under the direction of Felix guest who had come to Munich for his Mottl that the theatre gained its greatest importance from a musical point of view modest beginning at the Metropolitan Another American girl who has been As an evidence of the class of artists Opera House as a pupil of the opera very successful at Munich is Maude Fay, who appear there it is only necessary to school, has been attracting attention in who also comes from California. understand that Herman Jadlowker came Miss May Scheider is a New York girl from that theatre to the Metropolitan season. She has been singing Donng who has just been selected for one of the Opera House Anng in "Don Giovanni" at the Teatro most important places in opera in Ger-Miss Scheie Miss Scheider, who had sung as an

If Mrs. Selwyn speaks first, it is noticed hat Mr. Selwyn usually has the last what he thinks.

You turn to Mr. Selwyn and ask him have some sent in.

That may be so, but as you perhaps of the magazines are the thereshold fashioned removed.

That may be so, but as you perhaps on that firm moments of public opinion, and whenever is significance outside," says Mr. Selwyn is land one when he hasn't touched a periodical section of the periodicals before 'The on that Walter in particular writes a continuous of the city, where plays that are not have some sent in.

That may be so, but as you perhaps in the firm moments of public opinion, and whenever is the last of the periodical section of the periodical section of the periodical section of the city, where plays that are not have some sent in.

That may be so, but as you perhaps in the firm moments of public opinion, and whenever is the last in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the play in his head even to the dialogue.

The cliff fashioned remarks although we of course always have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays that are not have some sent in the city where plays the city where plays the city where the cit says. "but the old fashioned romance with plenty of love and incident, where the adventures do not tax your credulity overmuch I should not be a bit surprised to find quite popular before very long."

The occult and psychie of the muckraking of thought was plainly shown in the receive hundreds of manuscripts every office winners. Take the muckraking of thought was plainly shown in the more care fully papers and in the more care fully prepared articles in the magazines and then dramas like "The Witching Hour" in a while I'll hear something in with any impending change in dramatic magazines; the Western stories were quite magazines; the Witching Hour in a while I'll hear something in selwyn met when it wo I know.

Take Willie Collier, for instance, with whom I collaborated in the new farce when in the receive hundreds of manuscripts every were receive hundreds of manuscripts every were receive hundreds of manuscripts every when the receive hundreds of manuscripts every were preceded, were they not by the muckraking campaigns of the fully prepared articles in the magazines and then dramas like "The Witching Hour" in a while I'll hear some and all should not be a bit surprised to find quite popular before very long."

The Occult and psychie for instance, with whom I collaborated in the new farce when it wo I know.

Take Willie Collier, for instance, with whom I collaborated in the new farce when it wo I know.

Take Willie Collier for instance, with whom I collaborated in the new farce when it wo I know.

The dury service a control of the duily papers and in the muckraking of the duily papers and in the Mrs. Selwyn nods. "I remember Mrs. of view in writing plays, for she believed there you find out what people wanted and what they were talking about " You work in the same way?" you in- husband, Mr. Selwyn says quickly, "Yes. both find that no matter how you dope out . Yo a play it never follows your lead. Somewhere along the line it gets away from you; your characters do what they please in spite of you. I remember Mrs. Selwyn starting to write a suffragette farce once and I thought she had a corking idea. I didn t she told me with tears in her eyes that it got so serious that she had to stop writ-ing it, for she knew a serious suffragette erable sex."

ATRICE LA PALMI

Photo by the Dover Street Studies, Long.

Out weakness. A woman is apt to over-look that fact when she judges our mis-an ammative gesture. Except in the case of Langdon Mitchell and Gene Walter. Both of those men have a framework constructed and build absolutely work constructed and build absolutely they don't care in the theatres outside "That was a real experience, but they don't care in the theatres outside "who were afraid of the revolving doors."

Imperial Opera House in Vienna but she brought her to London has almost precipitated a crisis there. She recently left the company and will youthful and piquant Rosing gartner at the piano.

Lucille Marcel has not only made a a while in the French opera hos great success as the lyric soprano at the first attracted attention when Mr Pres have

Mary Carson, who is shown appear for a while in concert. She may Barber of Seville," comes from Base come to this country next year to sing in and has so far been heard only to Paly Chicago or in concerts, with Felix Wein- She has been especially successful in the Rossini opera. She dresses it in It was about ten years ago that Miss fashion and not in the usual Spanish ag

MISS MAY SCHEIDER AS VIOLETTA IN "TRAVIATA."

Marcel, whose real name is something quite different, went abroad to study with Jean de Reszke. Both he and his wife were so devoted to Miss Marcel. who is of Polish descent, that she made her home with the De Reszke family and travelled everywhere with them. She made her first appearance at the Opéra Comique, sang in concert in Russia and was then selected by Richard Strauss to create the title role when his "Elektra" was given in Vienna.

She in turn sang Aida, Tosca, Era and Marguerite, in which she is shown in the picture. If it had not been for the differences between Mr. Weingartner and the intendant of the Imperial Opera House in Vienna Miss Marcel would have become the first lyric soprano at Vienna for a term of years. She is praised for the beauty of her voice, which is said to possess a very emarkable timbre.

Marguerite Lemon, although she returns this country from time to time to coach with her teacher, Mme. Garrigues Mott, has not sung here in opera since she made a few tentative efforts at the Metropolitan Opera House some years ago. She has net with every success in Germany. Just w she is singing in London with Thomas Seecham, and her experiences there have not been as pleasant as she had thought hey were going to be.

Her special object in going there was to create Marta in the first London production of "Tiefland." Her cold interfered with that plan Later she had an opportunity to show what she could do The complete financial failure of the Reecham season interfered however with he brilliancy of the representations.

The wealthy if unappreciated impresario has been especially generous n his engagement of American girls. Beatrice La Palme, who comes from anada, is another young soprano who had her chance with him. She is shown in the part of Adelaide in "Die Fleder-She studied in Paris, sang for maus."

MARGUERETE LEMON AS ' MOD

and that interest was emphasised by 'The or pencil to paper. They are the only a bad one."

Royal Mount. The Wolf. Pierre of the two I know.

It may help a good play: it won't carry a bad one."

Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn met when they me as particularly funny and I'll say: That was a good line. Where did you Mrs. Selwyn nods. "I remember Mrs. Evelyn Sutherland once telling me that she never lost sight of the magazine point of view in writing plays, for she believed."

That was a good line. Where did you get that? and he says: 'Get it? Why, you wrote it. Don't you remember?'"

Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn agree that they ccasionally do disagree.

She didn't like The Country Boy at all when I was writing him," says husband, "and I really think she surprised that he turned out to be a suc-

"I really was, "admits the wife penitently You see I thought he was crude and raw. I did not care for the idea of a hero being in love with two women at the same tim I thought it made him a bit of a cad, but as a general thing I have a much higher opinion of men than my husband has."

"Right you are," says the husband. "It's make a hero out. thought she had a corking idea. I didn't hear anything about it after the start, and of one of my sex. They're not heroic, one day I inquired about its health and she told me with tears in her eyes that had time to be a real suffragette my sympathies were so strongly with the woman question that I could not bring myself to treat the subject lightly.

"But I agree with Mr. Selwyn's statement. In writing my plays I find invariably at the end that the idea that induced me to start the play is lost sight of and there is not the slightest clue to it in the flaished work. Neally all to be standard or standard in the standard of the Country Boy now."

"Ever since the first week's box office waiting for a chance to step in be and with somebody, and the next mean and that she had been standing waiting for a chance to step in be and with somebody, and the next mean and with somebody, and the next mean and that she had been standing waiting for a chance to step in be and with somebody, and the next mean and with somebody, and the next mean and with somebody and with somebody, and of course I said vour opinion in regard to the requirements of New York audiences?"

"We both agree perfectly," says Mr. Selwyn as spokesman. "More and more than I stepped to the subject lightly.

"We both agree perfectly," says Mr. Selwyn as spokesman. "More and more the first week's box office and with somebody, and the next mean and with somebody and the of and there is not the slightest clue to it in the finished work. Nearly all our friends who write have the same experience, do they not?"

Mr. Selwyn answers her question with an affirmative gesture. "Except in the case of Langdon Mitchell and Gene Wall
"Of course the New York manager and more doubted Manhattan is the demand for so that nobody else in the door of the soft ment later we both came out from a right, clear of the door on the side in front. And the old lady said to mean affirmative gesture. "Except in the case of Langdon Mitchell and Gene Wall
"Of course the New York manager and their she smiled on me and went and their she smiled on me and their she smiled on me and went and their she smiled on the she she smiled on me and their she smiled on me and their s er's Romance" and Miss Mayo's first success was a dramatization of "Under Two Flags." Her most popular play in New York recently, excepting "Buby Mine," was "Polly of the Circus," in which the Taliaferro sisters have appeared. Mr. Selwyn, besides the plays mentioned, wrote "A Friend in Need," "It's All Your Fault" and "Father and Son."

LUCINDA'S EXPERIENCES

She Encounters a Nice Old Lady in Feat of a Revolving Door.

"Did you know," said Lucinda. ":ba there are people who are afraid of revelve ing doors? No? Well, there are, old reopie mostly. I met one yesterday, a nice old lady

She was standing at the inner side of one of these doors in a store, and ment waiting for her to step in; but she let three or four leaves and chances go by orable sex. The play wouldn't go at all."

I don't think," interpolates Mrs. Selwyn gently, oh, very gently, "that the instance quoted is particularly apt. It didn't become serious in spite of me, it was so because when I came to write it I just discovered that although I had never had time to be a real suffragette my sympathies were so strongly with the woman sympathies were so strongly with the sympathies were so strongly with the woman sympathies were so strongly with the woman sympathies were so strongly with the woman sympathies were so strongly with the same compatible to so full of confidence.

Mrs. Selwyn nods. "It is true that when they file The Country Boy'n so full of confidence. The sympathies as I could and stepped in myself and apparently sall country as I could and stepped in myself and apparently sall country as I and apparently she wasn't going to